- The featured staff member was John Bickelhaupt.
 - John compiles all of the stats from the reference department for our monthly report.
 - He is in charge of ordering the 900's. This covers history, geography and travel. WWII is a very popular history topic. He has been purposely replacing a lot of the travel guides to make sure they are current.
 - John also buys the 000's. This area covers topics like computers, journalism, and things like Bigfoot and UFOs. Our computer section has grown to include more than basic how-to guides but now also covers a lot of programming language and web design materials.

- He is in charge of ordering and maintaining our magazines subscriptions. This project is very learn as you go. He's using a database to track the usage of titles, both in house and check out of back issues.
- John also maintains the guest passes used for internet access. These are used constantly and need to be replaced. They are used frequently by people who live in Fort Hall, travelers, or people who don't have the right identification to get a card.
- In July we gave out 250 cards, had 14,480 contacts at our public desks, and checked out 23,250 items

Technical Services report presented by Sheri Waite

- The end of the budget year is fast approaching so people are trying to spend out the last of their budgets. That means a lot of books are coming in.

AGENDA

- Trent Clark from Monsanto presented on the Caldwell Canyon Mine. The library will be a repository for public comment.
 - This will be their 6th mine in Idaho. It started as a soap plant.
 - They are now mining phosphorus that is much purer and can be used for research purposes.
 - They have taken input from air, water, and other non-profit conservationists. This will be a zero waste mine with net negative greenhouse gas emissions.
 - Next month they will start taking national public comments.
- The Security Camera Policy was discussed. Ideas from other libraries were gathered and then adjusted to our needs. We specifically referenced that the system will not be used to monitor staff. We also adjusted it to say that the footage could be requested as part of an ongoing criminal investigation, not just a court order. A motion to approve the policy was moved by Jay Bingham and seconded by Sharon Manning. It was approved.
