

THE BOOKMARK

A CENTURY OF SAVING THE PAST FOR THE FUTURE

The Bannock County Historical Society turned 100 years old on March 8th, 2022! An exhibit honoring this important milestone is on display at MPL. Our building was home to the Society's first museum. Along with information about the purpose, history, and accomplishments of the BCHS, there are photos of former exhibits, and items from the Museum's vast collections. Included will be personal items belonging to the first Miss Pocatello, a painted invitation on deerskin to President Roosevelt to attend the Territorial Centennial in 1934, a replica of the Liberty Bell, some architectural salvage items, and much more! Please visit the Museum at Upper Ross Park to see recent changes and additions to the gallery including information and artifacts from Pocatello's lodges.

BLACKOUT POETRY CONTEST FOR TEENS

Ages 12-18 can enter the contest starting April 1. Pick up a free sharpie and a page from a book or other item of print. When your poem is completed, bring it to Marshall Public Library by April 15. All poems will remain the property of MPL, and will be displayed for voting from April 15-30. Two poems with the most votes will win a small Magnetic Poetry Box.

FROM THE STACKS: "GO WEST, YOUNG MAN" By William W. Johnstone and J.A. Johnstone

John Zachary, his buddy Emmott Braxton, and their families chose to seek opportunity in one of the most difficult ways: Through the Oregon Trail. What was heard and promised was a better life with more prosperity. As with most journeys in life, the final goal does not come easy. At times, the travelers dealt with gunfights, attempted robberies, lack of drinking water, muddy trails, torturous weather, and death. The journey must continue, but how many will make it to Oregon City? What is waiting for them when they make it? This story shows historical accuracy of the trail and what many travelers went through, but also provides readers inspiration in overcoming trials.
