

JULY 2023

THE BOOKMARK

Garden to Give ✨ ✨

The Marshall Public Library is teaming up with The Idaho Foodbank to help get excess produce from your garden to those who need it. The library will collect any fresh garden overflow (including fruits and herbs) the community would like to donate through October. If you have any questions, please contact us at 208-232-1263 ext. 106.

ACT (ARTS & COMMUNITY TICKETS) ✨ ✨

We are teaming up again with the Gate City Grays this summer! Two free tickets per home game will be available to pick up on the Friday before the game day. For example, tickets for a game on Wednesday, July 19 would be available to pick up on Friday, July 14. Only one checkout per household during the summer, and you must have a library card. Tickets are good for two adults, or one adult and one child. First-come, first-served!

FROM THE STACKS: This Is How You Lose The Time War by Amal El Mohtar and Max Gladstone

This book centers on a trope that has captivated readers throughout the centuries: warriors on either side of a conflict who gradually realize that they have more in common with each other than with their commanders. In this case, however, the warriors (known only as Red and Blue) are time-traveling secret agents. The novella is written in an epistolary style, with each chapter representing a letter that Red or Blue write each other (part of the fun, too, is that one of the two co-writers writes each protagonist's unique voice). For a singular and romantic tale dressed up in science fiction, you can't do much better than this book.
