"GARDEN TO GIVE:

The growing season is underway, and Marshall Public Library is teaming up with The Idaho Foodbank once again this year to help get excess produce from your garden to the food bank for our annual "Garden to Give" program. The program encourages the local community to donate their extra produce to help families in need.

The library will accept donations of locally grown fresh produce, including fruits, vegetables and herbs, and transport them to the food bank. Since the program began in 2019, MPL has collected several hundred pounds each year for the food bank helping collect overflow from local gardens and connecting it with those who need it the most. We will collect donations from June through October.

It's going to be a great summer full of reading and discovery. The Summer Reading Program which started in June will continue for ten weeks through the summer with dino-sized fun, activities, events, and opportunities for all readers to stay engaged. Whether you are a lifelong learner or just getting started, there is something for everyone. Participants can track their reading, earn prizes, and explore new stories all summer long. For more information about events, schedules, and how to participate, visit Marshallpl.org, stop into the library or follow along on social media.
